

DAWN CHORUS in the MOSS!

A very early walk through Portmoak Moss with Scott Paterson,
Bird Recorder for Perth & Kinross

It's International Dawn Chorus Day on the first weekend in May. We thought we would get in on the party again this year and Scott has agreed to lead us. Now, dawn on 4th May is at 5.20 am. That would mean meeting at 4.00 am to get ourselves in position and listen to Scott give a bit of an introduction.

We know that's early but it's worth it. Last time, we had just started out when the first rays appeared in the tree tops and the robins started to sing. Who knows what other fauna we'll see in the Moss at that unearthly hour!

We'll be bringing along (as is our tradition) tea and coffee to warm ourselves up afterwards. And another thing, wrap up well!

Saturday 4th May, 4.00 am

Meet: Entrance to Moss, Scotlandwell

'First come first serve' this time so please phone and let us know if you would like to come along:
